Brian Innes

Brian Innes has been exhibiting regularly for many years, most notably at the Royal Academy Summer Show, the Mall Galleries and the Whitechapel Art Gallery.

Originally from Scotland, he came to London to attend Hornsey School of Art in 1970 and has stayed in London ever since!

His subject matter includes both urban and rural landscape, boats and flowers. He enjoys painting 'in situ' - preferably in a field or on the beach!

Currently he has a studio at the Chocolate Factory in Stoke Newington, north London, and is an active member of the Islington Art Society.
