Virginia Jackson

Virginia was born in Christchurch, New Zealand. Much of her artistic work has echoes of the South Island scenery she grew up with - wide unpopulated vistas with verdant countryside and distant mountains. In recent years she has lived in London concentrating on etching, with a particular emphasis on the study of trees, whether in formal groups in local parks or in windswept parts of the English and Scottish countryside. She also collects new ideas when holidaying abroad.

Virginia has exhibited in London at the Mall Galleries with The Society of Women Artists and The New English Art Club; held small successful solo exhibitions in Islington and Crouch End and sold works through Highgate Fine Arts. Her work has also been exhibited in galleries in Sumner and Akaroa in New Zealand.
